24 German Planes Are Shot Down

LONDON, June 21.—(CP)—The Air Ministry announced tonight that at least 24 German fighter planes had been shot down during two Royal Air Force offensive sweeps over northern France today.

The air ministry announced the loss of one bomber and three fighters in the day's operations, which began early and continued late into the evening of this longest day of the year.

British fighters accompanied heavy bombers in attacks on the German-held French coast, the attacking planes rearing up over the channel in leaves and their bombs exploding on enemy targets with earth-shaking reverberations felt on the English side.

The non-stop daylight activity followed the 100th anniversary night bombing of objectives in Germany proper. Last night the navy base at Kiel was said to have been hit. The night bombers also attacked the docks at Dunkerque and Boulogne.

A German patrol vessel was sunk by bombing yesterday off Den Helder, the Netherlands.

From these operations one British plane was lost.

Reports Denied

LONDON, June 21.—(CP)—As the war approaches its critical and possibly decisive stage, with Russia and Japan confronted by German pressure and Great Britain threatened again with German invasion, European observers are impressed with the possibility that the United States may be able to play a decisive role.

President Roosevelt's recent speech, while vitally important to those who understand America's international situation, came as an anti-climax to most European who feel that the war cannot be won without American entry and who had hoped that Washington would take a more active role.

$60,000 Building At U. Hospital

Addition to the University hospital, involving expenditure of $60,000, will be constructed in the immediate future, it was learned Saturday on reliable private information received from Ottawa.

The agreement between the University hospital and the department of national pensions, of which Hon. Jas. Macbride is minister, is expected to be placed before the Dominion cabinet for ratification next week.

The addition will be used by the pension department, in dealing with returned soldiers, for administrative and other purposes.

At present, pension branch is housed in the South side of the hospital, and is inconveniently situated by the widespread movement necessitated by going from the north side to the south side of the building and then to the University hospital.

By constructing the administrative building all offices will be concentrated and the work of the pension department will be greatly facilitated.

The new building will be an extension of the existing building, the Military Wing of the University hospital.

The orthopaedic section of the pension branch, where artificial limbs are made and repaired, is on the north side, will be housed in the new building.

Discussions as to construction of this new building have been under way since 1934 and this year were renewed at the institution of the pension branch.

Turkey Agrees To Be 'Benevolently' Neutral If Nazis Attack Soviet

Secret Clause In German-Turkish Treaty Reported To Associated Press By Reliable Source In London

LONDON, June 21.—(CP)—A reliable foreign source told The Associated Press today the German-Turkish treaty contained a secret clause binding Turkey to benevolent neutrality in the event of war between Germany and Soviet Russia.

The clause, which this source said probably would be the basis for the German-Turkish treaty, was said to be a pledge to what he called "big moves" in eastern Europe involving Russia.

The source said he was told by well-placed informants that Germany insisted on the Turkish pledge to ensure their eastern frontier against trouble and leave them free to pursue the German-Turkish friendship.

RUSSIA CREATES 60-MILE "ZONE OF DEVASTATION"

Entire Populations Of Coastal Districts Evacuated

Bridges, Railroads On Lithuanian Front Being Destroyed Reports Say

HELSINKI, Finland, June 20-10:50 p.m.—(BUP)—Russia is hastily creating a 60-mile "zone of devastation" along the German-Lithuanian frontier, refugees reported tonight as Finland's middle-aged men were called to army duty under a general mobilization order.

Travelers arriving here after having escaped across the Finnish Gulf from Estonia, said that Russian authorities had evacuated entire populations of several coastal districts in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania and had arrested many "undesirables".

The Lithuanian frontier was asserted, Russia was destroying bridges and railroads and burning up houses and entire villages to create its "devastation zone".

Anti-aircraft guns suddenly appeared on the tops of high buildings in Helsinki and many motor trucks and private automobiles were commandeered.

A general mobilization order issued Friday night sent all persons up to the age of 14 years to the colors at once.

The mobilization posters were displayed at all street corners, the glaring white of the paper attracting bystanders.

FEW AFFECTED Well informed sources said that relatively few men were affected because the high command had been calling up thousands of men for days past by individual notification.

It was necessary to issue the general mobilization order now in view of Finland's precarious position in any Russo-German conflict, because there is never any cover of darkness in which troops can be moved.

In southern Finland, the "light night" starts at the beginning of June and lasts until mid-July in northern Finland. The "light night" lasts until the end of August. Helsinki planes would be able to bomb trains throughout the 24 hours.

Unemployment Insurance In Effect July 1

By JAMES MCCOOK

OTTAWA, June 21—(CP)—Unemployment insurance—in the words of government officials—is "an orderly first line of defence against the evils of unemployment"—goes into effect in Canada July 1.

More than 2,000,000 workers or 40 per cent of the Dominion wage earners will be under the plan and unemployment insurance commission officials said today the means provision for about 5,000,000 people, including workers and their dependents.

In addition to provision for payment of benefits to those who lose employment, the Unemployment Insurance Act will make possible the creation of the national employment service which will help employers to find workers and assist workers to find jobs.

First step taken in starting operation of the plan was the issuance a few weeks ago of a circular containing a list of the names of the 100,000 employers, the circular gave a brief outline of the purpose of the plan and requested the employers to indicate the number of jobs required for their employees.

Officials said that latest figures, as of June 15, showed 80,000 employers had registered, applying for forms for 1,137,333 employees, male and female.

The combined contributions of employers and employees represents 10 per cent of the cost of the plan. Industrial Organizations, in the presence of Harry Brown, Ford's labor relations director, and more than a score of company and union representatives.

By the signing of the agreement, Ford became the first big industrial employer to sign up for the plan. The plan will be in effect July 1.

Robin Moore with action rather than words.

To Europeans it is plain that the American strategy is one of holding off with America until Britain has been knocked out. Washington plays into German hands because Rome, it appears to feel that the British is not wholly united and that American preparation has not moved forward to the point where a German action would bring quick success.

NAVAL AID

American backwaters in preparation are understandable to European observers. They argue, nevertheless, that the lack of the Atlantic and the invasion of British naval and American efforts and that which Britain needs to help her with these naval aid.

American naval preparations are not backward. The fleet in America's best service arm and it is not fit to interfere with the British will never be, it is seems to observers.

The New Town Planning

By CECIL S. BURGESS, F.R.A.I.C.
Mem. Sec. Edmonton Town Planning Commission

7-Zoning

THE "zoning" of a city consists in allocating the various parts of the city to special uses, some to be commercial, others residential, and so on. This proceeding has been generally accepted and approved that when a city undertakes town planning and receives town planning powers it is understood that the city will be zoned. Hundreds of cities in this continent have adopted this procedure and it is claimed that none of these has ever regretted doing so or has ever gone back on the policy. While zoning is not a cure-all for all troubles, it is nevertheless a necessary and serviceable operation. It requires to be proceeded with the fullest knowledge obtainable, with careful consideration of existing conditions and with the fairest judgment.

It is obviously desirable that residents of a pleasant and well kept district should not have any noisy or offensive occupation planted in their midst. The immediate adjoining property should therefore be, as a stroke, undesirable as residential use, the whole neighborhood would be reduced, not in money value only, but in living value also.

INDISCRIMINATE MINGLING

When a town has grown to a considerable size in an undirected and haphazard way it is certain that many people will find themselves with very undesirable neighboring uses. These uses may be noisy, honest ones, deserving encouragement and security, or they may be noisy, dishonest ones, deserving discouragement and removal.

The resulting chaos may be described as a mass of the unmanageable, of which is the object of "zoning". In a large city the task may at first sight seem quite impossible. Approached methodically and comprehensively it will be found by no means impossible. There are a number of ways in which followed will suggest many of the reasons why zoning is a "tendency towards a proper distribution of use. Heavy manufacturing and wholesale businesses naturally establish themselves near railways and so that they have easy access for shipping purposes. Stores tend to be opened close to one another so that customers can walk long distances to walk in order to purchase the various sorts of goods they need. Businesses will occupy more retired locations where space is more plentiful and more easily secured.

In a growing city each use will tend to crowd upon the others, and in many cases individuals will often find that their only available opportunity is to jump into the midst of a district where actual use has no relation to their own and if there be no regulations at the present time, this new use may in that situation be injurious to its neighbors.

UNFAIR AND DISASTROUS

It would clearly be unfair and indeed disastrous, to order all unsightly buildings to be moved out into suitable locations on short notice, even if suitable locations could be presented to them in exchange for their lots. Many businesses cannot be thus summarily transplanted without such expense and sacrifice as would be ruinous.

The procedure, therefore, adopted for setting such cases into their proper places may here be briefly indicated. First, such unsightly buildings are classified as "non-conforming uses" and special restrictions are placed upon them. They cannot extend their premises in any major degree. If burned out, a major extent they cannot be rebuilt for a non-conforming purpose. Even the imposition of these disabilities is a fairly drastic proceeding and can only be resorted to under the authority of the Town Planning Act and with limitations set by the zoning bylaw.

CREATE CONDITIONS

Perhaps more important than the application of these powers is the ability of the town planning to create conditions that will themselves prove encouraging towards bringing uses into the districts allocated to them. New businesses will, of course, have no choice and will naturally have no desire to go elsewhere than into their allotted places. Existing non-conforming uses will in many cases find their out-of-place location less profitable than the place where they properly belong and will tend gradually to drift into the districts which zoning has provided for them. Others there always are that just naturally go out of business altogether from having been started in the wrong place. Some also may be brought out since a site may become more valuable for its proper use than for an undesirable one. Time and chance and the future that happens to all will result in the desired direction. It must be granted that improvement along these lines must be slow, but it is fair and in the interests of the whole community.

The task of defining the various districts is a difficult and delicate one and oversteps may be made. The immediate zoning distribution is, however, carefully prepared and clearly laid down upon a map of the city and then submitted to the citizens and to the council. Where it is found in practice to show some error a district may be altered. It is not, however, another, but this may be done early with the council. The property owners in that neighborhood. Such changes inevitably become a part of the zoning in a rapidly growing city.

An essential part of a zoning operation is the preparation of zoning bylaws describing the conditions and restrictions imposed on each district. These bylaws are based on the intention to preserve to every individual the use of his property as he is consistent with the social rights of his neighbors and with the good of the community. Many of them are simply the making of law out of existing facts which have naturally sprung up and have met with general approval, such as the zoning of the street line while commercial buildings are of a certain height. The zoning bylaws are published.

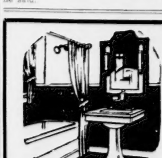

APPROVED BY COUNCIL

In Edmonton the Zoning Bylaw and related Map were approved by the council in 1932. A large scale map showing the zoning layout is on display at the city architect's office and smaller scale copies are published.

In later articles it is proposed to discuss the nature and requirements of the zoning districts.

Thousands Pray In Quebec City For War Victory

QUEBEC, June 21.—(CP)—An estimated 10,000 Roman Catholics knelt on the legislative grounds Friday night as Premier Gauthier prayed for peace in victory and of Quebec to the Sacred Heart. The dedication came near the close of three days of prayer which started at St. Joseph's oratory, near the city's western limit, and ended before a big religious rally at the legislature after a procession through city streets. With a loud-speaker system carrying his voice to the crowd, Cardinal Villeneuve said in a brief address that the demonstration of faith was profoundly significant. "God, give us victory, give us peace. . . . Save our Canada," he said.

This Small House Contains Unusual Amount Of Space

There is a surprising amount of space in this seemingly small one-bedroom cottage. Easy circulation in the floor plan is an outstanding feature. A generous entrance hall and stair gives the visitor with a coat closet just to the left. On the left is a well-proportioned bedroom, and on the right is a large, bright living room with central fireplace. An exceptional feature is the rear dining room with a bay window looking out over the fields. With the dining room view at the rear, the service parts of the house are cleverly located at the front, with door of the well-equipped kitchen opening on to the bay window looking out over the fields. Thousands Pray In Quebec City For War Victory

QUEBEC, June 21.—(CP)—An estimated 10,000 Roman Catholics knelt on the legislative grounds Friday night as Premier Gauthier prayed for peace in victory and of Quebec to the Sacred Heart. The dedication came near the close of three days of prayer which started at St. Joseph's oratory, near the city's western limit, and ended before a big religious rally at the legislature after a procession through city streets. With a loud-speaker system carrying his voice to the crowd, Cardinal Villeneuve said in a brief address that the demonstration of faith was profoundly significant. "God, give us victory, give us peace. . . . Save our Canada," he said.

Radiolocator Corps Is Open To Canadians

By R. T. RICHARDSON
OTTAWA, June 21.—Britain's new civilian technical corps to run the secret radiolocator device of the Royal Air Force is open to Canadians as well as Americans, a spokesman for the British technical mission in Canada said today. A drive for 10,000 members for the new corps has been opened in the United States of America.

The new device, it was learned, is so sensitive that the R.A.F. can actually learn of the take-off of German planes from French aerodromes on a dark night at the moment the planes leave the ground.

COMBOD LIST

Canada's part in providing technicians for the device has included transfer of 1,000 radio men overseas already. Months ago, authorities started quietly enlisting radio experts. They combed the lists of the national registration taken last year. When the supply of men with training was exhausted, the R.C.A.F. and the emergency training plan of the labor department aimed to train men.

Many of them university undergraduates, some 2,500 recruits are in training in Canadian universities this summer. A big increase in training of radio mechanics in technical schools will be launched shortly by the labor department. The Bulletin learned today.

Volunteers can enter the corps through the British mission in Ottawa or at the Montreal Transit Pool.

Answer Appeal

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—(AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's appeal for American scientists to help operate radio devices in England to locate approaching German airplanes is bringing an overwhelming response, British consul E. A. Clough Monday. He announced the consulate would be open an hour each evening, Monday through Friday, to accept enrollees in the civilian technical corps.

U.S. To Restrict All Oil Exports From East Coast

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—By direction of President Roosevelt, all petroleum products were suspended today to export control, and exports from the eastern seaboard may be made only to the British Empire, Egypt and the western hemisphere.

A plan will be prepared, the White House said, for the most effective use of tanker facilities in supplying petroleum to the eastern seaboard and the other American republics.

Replacement of Many Teachers Is Found Necessary

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., June 21.—(CP)—Superintendent Owen Williams of the Lethbridge school, in a statement here said Friday, the large number of replacements of teachers ever made in a single year will have to be made this fall.

Superintendent Williams said replacements were caused due to marriages, military service and granting of leave of absence to teachers desirous of continuing their studies. There are about 100 teachers to replace in the Lethbridge division, he said.

Looking them Over

SHOULD Regina, Calgary and Vancouver all agree up and tell to that what they choose to do in football is strictly none of our business, they would be perfectly right. The sponsors of these clubs are the ones footing the bill and if they want to play conference football this year or postpone on Labor Day, they are at liberty to do so. All of this is of course obvious, but it is not forth here as that in Regina, Calgary or Vancouver will be put to the trouble of telling me this in a letter.

However it seems a bit tragic to waste the effort, time and money needed for another effort to keep the Western Conference alive this fall. The war gave big time football on the prairies a knockout blow and there doesn't seem to be much sense in a desperate effort to get more money per play in.

Edmonton reached this conclusion in a hurry and suspended operations of the Eskimos franchise for the duration of the war. Calgary has now been forced to do the same thing through factors which Edmontonians may eventually agree. It is hard to see how Regina can find justification for the effort that will be required to keep the Roughriders playing another season. Vancouver is just starting in the Western Conference and the dice are loaded against it.

Winning is in the fortunate position of having a fine club, coach and organization and enough fans to pay the bills. The situation there is accordingly a great deal different than in any other western city.

Calgary and Edmonton are not quitting football, however. They are simply turning back to vital groundwork and building for conference play after the war by developing their own talent through well organized Junior leagues. It looks as if Regina and Vancouver would be well advised to do the like.

Last Crack at the Ponies

IF YOU like horse racing, then you are among the citizens of these parts who figure the ponies over something to square their betting losses of previous years. Such citizens are hereby reminded that the Edmonton Exhibition next month will be the last chance they will have to get even with the horses until after the war. The R.C.A.P. takes over the exhibition grounds immediately after the fair and keeps them for the duration.

There will be six days of racing at the Exhibition with $10,000 purses. The management however is prepared to put up an additional $10,000 in prize money to attract such handicap horses as Killarney L. Pomphrey, Compendium, Fern Creek, Schoolmaster and other outstanding thoroughbreds that have been racing on the better California tracks during the past winter.

The horses now racing at Westminster are the best that have yet been assembled for the prize circuit and the majority of them will be running here. Distance races will again be emphasized for the preference to the short sprint. Despite war conditions, the meet will be conducted in the same high class way Edmontonians have become accustomed to.

Where the Ducks Go

IT is not the men with the guns who are responsible for decrease in wild duckland is Nature herself says. T. C. Mann, general manager of the Canadian division of Ducks Unlimited, in a recent article.

On May 26 he drove 30 miles north of Regina and from the highway he counted 230 shovels and potholes from a half acre to 30 acres in area. On 210 of these water areas were from one to 50 pairs of nesting ducks, and all of their broods are doomed unless sportsmen do something about it.

Crows are thick in this area and nearly all of these sloughs and potholes will dry up before the young can fly. The crows then polish off what ducklings they don't get for themselves.

"The only solution is for sportsmen to organize and clean out the dries and to build keep-ponds that will hold water at the needed level," Mann says. "The dries and potholes are required in every township so that the ducklings will not have to travel more than a couple of miles to reach them when their own potholes and sloughs dry up before they can fly."

Western Football Conference May Fold Following Withdrawal Of Calgary Club

CALGARY, June 21.—(CP)—Fate of the Western Football Conference hung in the balance today following withdrawal of Calgary Bronks, one of the three original members of the union formed in 1956. The Bronks football club Thursday night announced withdrawal from the Conference for at least a year because of loss of 14 players of last year's team and increased operating costs.

Vancouver Grizzlies had planned to enter the league this year with Calgary, Regina Roughriders and Winnipeg Blue Bombers, western champions since 1937 and twice dominant champions. Regina and Winnipeg were other original members of the Conference. Edmonton Eskimos operated in 1958-59 but withdrew last year because of the war.

There was a possibility the Calgary withdrawal would cause Vancouver Grizzlies to pull out of the Conference. Regina, closest to Vancouver, would probably be the new setup, a 1,000 mile by train and Winnipeg 1,400 miles. Traveling costs would be tremendous.

Chuck Jones, Grizzlies manager, said in Vancouver the Calgary club "made a pretty tough pull" expressed both by the club and the fans. The Bronks Club supports the Grizzlies.

At Regina that probably Winnipeg and Regina could arrange a series of games, but the fall of Vancouver does not operate in the long. The Bronks club, however, that if war conditions become more serious than at present, Regina will abandon its football team temporarily. He did not expand on this statement and did not indicate whether the Conference would meet to discuss the new situation.

Coach Dean Griffing of Roughriders said possibly a three or four game series with Winnipeg could be arranged and in Winnipeg the Bronks would be the Bronks and such a series might be feasible.

Hendrick said it is certain Winnipeg will operate a team and if no longer functioning will play exhibition games. For several seasons Bronks have played exhibitions with United States college teams.

Mannville Buffaloes tonight will play the Regina Roughriders at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. The Buffaloes will play the Regina Roughriders at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday.

REGINA, June 21.—(CP)—Representatives of the five clubs that played in the Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League last season decided at a special meeting of the league Friday night to operate under the same set-up in the 1941-42 season.

It was decided, however, that if any of the clubs failed to produce their $2,000 bond or certified cheque by Aug. 1 to guarantee their entry in the circuit, negotiations may be opened with officials of the Alberta Senior League with a view to organizing an interprovincial loop.

Regina Rangers last season won the Saskatchewan Senior championship. This was made known Friday with termination of an agreement between Philadelphia arena and Montreal Canadiens.

Philadelphia will have its own hockey team when the American League opens the 1961-62 season.
